

BEARS, BEARS, BEARS!

Of all the outdoor activities that Canada offers, bear watching has to be our favourite. Canada is home to around 60% of the world's bear population. There are actually four types of bear that you can see in Canada; the American black bear, the grizzly bear (a North American subspecies of the brown bear), the Kermode bear or "Spirit Bear" (a cream subspecies of the American black bear) and polar bears. We use a number of bear watching lodges, carefully chosen to act as the very best bases from which to see bears in their natural habitats, from pristine rainforest to the Arctic tundra.

BOOK WITH CONFIDENCE AND FLEXIBILITY

After months of restricted movement, take the opportunity to explore the great outdoors of Canada. We are working with our partners to offer as much flexibility and support to clients as possible. This includes, on a case-by-case basis, reduced deposits, deferred payment dates, and free date changes. We want you to feel confident that your travel arrangements are as flexible as possible, with minimal financial exposure.

Some of our favourite trips to consider:

- Magnificent Bear Viewing in The Great Bear Rainforest
- Grizzly Bears & Whales Self-Drive Safari
- Grizzlies and Spirit Bears of the Great Bear Rainforest
- Spirit Bears & Humpback Whales of British Columbia

- Narwhal and Polar Bear Safari
- Spring Polar Bears and Icebergs of Baffin Island
- Caribou Migration & Autumn Arctic Tundra
- Arctic Wolf Photography
- Polar Bears & Northern Lights Holiday
- Ultimate Arctic Experience

We can offer private tailor-made itineraries or small group guided tours, there's an option to suit everyone!

Contact us by email, WhatsApp, or through our website, and one of our Adventure specialists will be in touch to take you through the options available and help you plan your escape to the Canadian wilderness.
